A Film + Water Festival
in Paris

In honor of World
Water Day

I believe in the power of film! I believe in it as a bridge between water science and water policy. Film combines precision and poetry, imagination and courage.

In the water world, in our many meetings, in the many corners of the world, and at many times, we have encountered people who have sparked these qualities of film within us. We hope this program might do the same - spark inspiration in you!
